They may also be known as international business companies, personal investment companies, front companies or mailbox companies. The use of such persons or arrangements may make identification of ultimate beneficial owners more difficult since layering of ownership may conceal the true source or controller of the investment. | Yes | No |
| 3. Does the client have any nominee shareholders?

| 4. Does the company issue shares in bearer form?
Companies who issue their capital in the form of bearer shares make it possible to hide the identity of the beneficial owner(s) and/or changes in beneficial ownership by separating legal and beneficial ownership, or because there is no trail of ownership, which introduces a degree of anonymity. | Yes | No |

| 6. Does the ownership structure of the client entity appear complex given the nature of the client?
